Advancing Column Passes Railway Centre in Movement to Roll Back Germans.

PETROGRAD, Dec. 12. The Russian movement to roll back Von Hindenburg's army of invasion over Its path of invasion has begun, and by a bold dash has gained ground westward. Staneously with heavy assaults on the Germans, who are attempting to gain possession of the Bura and Pilica Rivers, part of Grand Duke Nicholas' army of defense has made marked progress

Bollmow, on the Rawka River, has been reached, while westward progress has carried one section of the front beyond Skiernicwice, the rallway centre reported raken by the Germans a few days ago.

Battle for control of the rivers tributary to the Vistala west of Warsaw rages furlocaly. German offensive is opposed by Russian counter-assaults on the Brurn, Rawks and Pilles Rivers.

Details of the fighting reaching here today showed that the Russians, west of Warsaw, masked their artillery along the Baurs and did not open fire on the closely massed ranks of the enemy, until they were in midstream. The destruction of life was frightful. Hundreds of wounded were swept off their feet by the current and, weighted down by their heavy equipment, were drowned.

Two hundred Germans, part of a column of the advance on Warsaw, were killed in single engagement along the Bzura. At other points the fee lost heavily.

At many fords the Germans withdrew and took cover to escape the Russian fire. At other points mines were exploded along the banks where the Germans en-deavored to force a crossing. Such ex-plosions invariably resulted in heavy losses to the enemy and threw their ranks into greatest confusion.

South of the Vistula, between the Burra and Pilica, the Germans announce they have succeeded in crossing branches of the Bsura and Rawka Rivers at many places. This should bring the main armies very close together and a few days will tell whether the German advance is to be definitely checked, or whether the German are again to the extent of the control of the c

Arrest of Alleged German Bomb-maker Foils Plan to Sink Liner From New York.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 22. The New Orleans police today asked the New York authorities to investigate the New York ends of the conspiracy revealed here by Hans Halle, a German, to place bombs on board French and Brit- England. ish liners sailing for Europe. The police have in their possession a complete bomb of enormous power, which, Halle said, was to have been sent to New York today to be placed on the French liner Chicago, which sails from that city on Saturday. The bomb was to have been timed to explode on Monday, when the ship was well out to sea.

The report was at first circulated that he had succeeded in getting a bomb on board the Rochambeau, of the French line, due at Havre on Tuesday. It is learned, however, that the steambhip was reported off the English coast yesterday 000,000 of Christian men and women it and little fear is entertained for her safety.

According to the police New Orleans is the headquarters of the conspiracy and that the bombs were to have been made here and then shipped by parcel post to New York and to other ports from which French and British ships sall. What the police want to learn now in the range of possibility.

"Who are the New York agents of the conspiracy? To whom were the bombs to be addressed? Who was to place them on the ships and how was it to bace them on the ships and how was it to be done? These are the lines that they want the New York detective bureau to investigate. When Halle was arrested he gave the name of Frank Holn. Later he admitted his real identity. He said that he was born in Hamburg 35 years ago and that, since he came out a year ago, he has been employed in the Harriman line shops at Vicksburg and McComb City, Miss. Discovery of the alleged plot recalled the interview published yesterday in which Admiral von Tirpits, head of the German navy, intimated that a plan of campaign to starve England by destroy-ing all shipping was by no means beyond the range of possibility.

In this connection it was also recalled that only seven out of a cargo of 800 horses on the British steamship Remhorses on the British steamship Rem-brandt, which sailed from Baltimore on November 7, escaped alive from a fire that was discovered soon after the steam-ship left port. While the vessel lay in her slip at Baltimore the German steam-ship Neckar was tied up not far away, and the Rembrandt's captain was con-vinced that his ship had been fired by some of the German crew of the Neckar.

THE ROCHAMBEAU SAFE. NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—Refore the French liner Rochambeau sailed from New York for Havre officials of the line were warned that an infernal machine would be placed on board the vessel. This was learned today in connection with the investigation being made by New York authorities of the plot revealed by Ger-mans arrested at New Orleans to blow up merchant vessels. Precautions taken by the line's officials prevented any ma-hine being placed on the ship to blow her up, and she arrived safely, at Havre yesterday.

Deputies Vote for Preparations When Ministry Announces New German Raid on Angola.

LISBON, Dec. 23. The entrance of Portugal into the Euroean war was foreshadowed today when the chamber voted in favor of making preparations for Portugal to join England in the conflict. The chamber also approved proposals for measures to be taken in defense of the colonies, and all steps necessary toward placing the country upon a war footing. It is generally expected that Portugal's greatest activity will be in Africa against the German colonies, should the decisio to enter the war be finally adopted. The vote in the Chamber today fol

NEW YORK, Dec. 25 .- Trenches are beng dug about London and extraordinary precautions are being taken on the English East Coast region in anticipation of German raids or an invasion. This information reached here today from a reliable private source in England.

The trench digging around London began two months ago. It was announced at the time that this was mere practice work for recruits. This pretense has now been abandoned. Any traveler by road out of London, especially to the north and northeast, has ample opportunities to observe lines of trenches that would do credit to seasoned sappers in Flanders. These extend in an almost unbroken line from Hendon, on the northwest, through Potters Bar, across to Epping Forest, on the northeast, and thence southward as far as the Thame

For two months the German invasion no relaxation of vigilance or preparation on the part of General Sir Ian Hamilton, commander-in-chief of the defense forces. It is also known in London that Lord Kitchener recently made a personal tour of inspection of the points on the east coast, where it is considered most likely the Germans may attempt a landing.
Altogether there are now mobilized along the coast from Dover to Leith approximately half a million men. A large part of these are Territorials, but in portant points are a number of regiments

KAISER REINFORCES LINES TO DRIVE BACK ALLIES

Immense Numbers of Troops Rushed to Western Front. PARIS, Dec. 21.

Reinforcements are being rushed in arge numbers to the German battlefront in Belgium and northern France, according to reports coming from numerous sources. Not only are new guns, just turned out by the Krupps, being sent to the front, but troops are being transferred from the Poland front to the western war theatre, and fresh forces, including youths of from 17 to 18, who have never seen service, are being sent forward.

The belief here is that the Kalser is strengthening his lines to resist the constantly increasing pressure of the Allies' general offensive, and that he also con-general offensive, and that he also con-templates a new counter-offensive, prob-ably along the coast toward Dunkirk.

Although the Allies have been pursuing their offensive for more than a fortnight, with varying degrees of pressure along the line, the German front at no point has suffered seriously. This can be attributed to the great strength of the Germans' fortified positions. At points where they to the great strength of the Germans' fortified positions. At points where they have fallen back they have retired to previously constructed tranches. The Germans have lost but little artillery, and the French War Office has now got to the point where it credits officially the capture of such small batches of prisoners as 100 or 300.

This afternoon's official report says the Allies are maintaining their offensive with continued success in both Belgium and France. The French have made progress on the coast between the North Sea and the road running from Nieuport to West Ende in Flanders.
South of the frontier in France the Anglo-French forces have recaptured from the Germans the vilinge of Given-ichy-les-La Bassee. A heavy fog is imeding operations around Arras, but in ther points of the battle front sharp ighting has taken place. That General Joffre, the French com-
